RESOLUTE WINS YACHT RACE ON HER TIME ALLOWANCE, VANITIE FINISHING FIRST

Herreshoff Sloop Had a Big Lead Half Way and Seemed a Sure Winner.

ASSOCIATED PRESS BOAT. OFF SANDY HOOK, June 11. (By Wire.)—Wind and sea favored Vanitie for the first half of a thirty-mile race to-day, and she seemed a sure winner until Resolute got a favorable start on the last half of the second leg of the course and not only overcame the half-mile lead Vanitie had, but passed her after the two rounded the second mark and stood away on the starboard tack.

It was then after 2 o'clock, and as sailing conditions had turned about in Resolute's favor she had the race as good as won, with only ten miles more to go without a turn.

The yachts made a pretty race to windward toward the finishing line. Vanitie kept on Resolute's weather quarter and regained her lead by a narrow margin, but after a very short board to port Vanitie came about again and Resolute crossed her bow and took the lead, steadily increasing, with her sails right on the edge of the wind and pointing a trifle higher than her rival. Vanitie's baby jib tattered and it looked as if she was being punched. The wind was hardly more than seven knots and the yachts were making an abt tide, but they were backing good time. They had started in a ten-knot breeze, with the sky clear and the sea nearly flat. With the turn that favored Resolute the water was inclined to be billowy.

Resolute won the race on her time allowance after a close contest between the two in the last reach at the finishing line, which Vanitie crossed first at 3:17:30. Resolute crossed the line two minutes later.

The official time was Vanitie, 3:17:37; Resolute, 3:19:36.

The elapsed times were: Vanitie, 4:15:57; Resolute, 4:17:36. Corrected elapsed times: Vanitie, 4:15:57; Resolute, 4:14.

The corrected time gave Resolute the victory by 1 minute 16 seconds. Four miles from the finish Resolute had a lead of nearly a minute, but she soon worked into a soft spot and Vanitie picked up some of the distance. The air was very light. At 3 o'clock the yachts were so close together it was impossible to tell which had the advantage. The yachts headed for the line almost side by side, Vanitie to windward. At one time they were so close that the skipper could almost shake hands with each other over the sides.

Defiance, her rigging still to the bad, was out of it, having made no attempt to start.

Vanitie beat Resolute over the starting line, but both yachts crossed after the two-minute handicap whistle was blown, and their time therefore was taken as having started at 11:02.

The actual times of the start were: Vanitie, 11:03:57; Resolute, 11:04:17. Vanitie had the weather position. It was just the kind of sailing weather that suited the Vanitie. The sea was smooth and she easily worked ahead of Resolute.

Vanitie rounded the first mark in 12:19:19, Resolute at 12:24:36.

The two yachts jibed around the mark with mainsails to starboard and wind shaft the beam started on the second ten-mile reach. At this point the Vanitie had a lead of two minutes and three seconds, more than the time allowance which she gives Resolute over a thirty-mile course.

MRS. POSS TO POSE IN WHAT SHE WORE ON NIGHT OF RAID

Unusual Demonstration Promised Jury Hearing the Divorce Case.

Dressed in the Japanese kimono, her silk underwear, and her broad-based boudoir slippers, Mrs. Lillian K. Poss will show the jury which is trying the divorce suit brought against her by Frank R. Poss how she was attired on the night of Feb. 23 when her husband and half a dozen detectives broke into her apartment in Riverside Drive and found her in the company of Percy M. Thorn, the co-respondent.

Mrs. Poss expressed her willingness to give the jury this unusual demonstration just before her cross-examination was begun at noon to-day. Justice Donnelly agreed to let the exhibition go on although he was first of the opinion that if Mrs. Poss came into court without her corsets and placed the kimono and its wide yellow robe over her staid dress it would be enough to furnish the jury with an idea of how she looked on the night that is so memorable to her and to Thorn.

However, Mrs. Poss naively told the judge that the jury couldn't get an accurate idea of her dress unless she appeared in court exactly as she was dressed on the night of the raid. She explained that it would be impossible to show how her husband tore her knickerbockers from her unless she wore the knickerbockers which the jury saw last week—but then they were not worn by Mrs. Poss. It is Mrs. Poss's contention that she was properly dressed on the night in question, when Mr. Thorn was in her apartment.

It is not likely that the exhibition will take place until to-morrow afternoon, as Attorney Abe Levy's cross-examination is expected to begin.

"DEAD" CHAUFFEUR RETURNED TO LIFE

Fire man Thought He Was Dead and Failed to Take Body From Fire.

Firemen working to extinguish a blaze caused by an explosion in an automobile repair shop at No. 425 West Fifty-fourth street this afternoon passed and repassed a body lying just within the closed rear door of the establishment. Reporters covering the fire looked in through the window and saw the body.

After thirty-five minutes firemen and policemen carried the body to the street through the ruins of the garage. Then it was discovered that the man had some heart action—slight, but enough to warrant a hurry call to Policlinic Hospital, which brought Dr. Tobin and a pulmotor to the scene.

The man was alive. His face and hands were horribly burned and he was unconscious from the effects of the fumes of gasoline and paint. Dr. Tobin went to work over the pitiful figure lying on the sidewalk. Late this afternoon, aided by other physicians, he was still engaged in a desperate but apparently hopeless attempt to save the man's life.

"He might have had a chance," said Dr. Tobin, "had we reached him early enough." The chauffeur died late this afternoon.
